In Centre Township, the election was very clos contested. There was no political issue—all the can-didates being Republicans—and the coutest turned upon personal, local, and a thousand and one eide issues. The principal struggle was for Trustee. R. M. Steele the present incumbent, had 3 majority over George H. Hagenbuch. The other officers elected were: Clerk, D. P. Carpenter; Treasurer, D. C. Sin-clair; Justices of the Peace, P. S. Soper and N. B. Wood; Constables, H. C. Bailey and Frank Berry. For Road Overseer in the importal 2d Road District, the fight was terrific. The other Districts were at abandoned, and the whole Township concen-d against District No. 2. Joe. Walker got left. and Tom. Triplett walked away with the folder.

In Wayne, Wm. Ege, Democrat, is reported elected Trustee by 4 majority, and the balance of the Republican ticket.

In Washington, the fight was personal. Peter Manville, present incumbent, is re-elected Trustee; Adam Grob, Clerk; Jacob Suter, Treasurer. In Burr-Oak, F. E. Garlichs, present incumbe

In Iowa, the race was chiefly between Republicana he contest being for Trustee. John A. Chapson, the resent incumbent, beats C. E. Fox, the regular nee, for Trustee.

In Wolf Biver Township, the result is as follows: Trustee, Wm. Ward; Clerk, L. J. Rote; Treasurer, C. O. Turkelson; Justices of the Peace, J. A. Camp-bell and E. B. Gatchell; Constables, J. W. Pry and Charles Applegate. Ward, the Trustee, and Pry, for Constable, were the Democratic nominees; the others are Republicans. The Republicans of Wolf River have done a very foolish piece of work, in allowing a Trustee to be nominated when they could have kept from it, and then defeating him for spite. They should have done this in the convention. Such things do the party no good.

the young gentlemen school teachers of Doniphau County. He teaches in a country District, which shall be nameless—we will call it the Gladden District, for short. One night recently, he was awak-ened in the night by a bustle and talking in the room elow. Thinking it was almost day, and that the smily had got up for an early breakfast, he arose and dressed himself, and went down. He found sev eral of the neighbor women assembled, but still did not smell a mouse, or see him floating in the air, or nip him in the bud, but sat down by the stove, and fell to reading a newspaper. The women commenced snickering, and finally one of them went to the bed, and yanking from under the cover a fresh baby, came and laid it upon the young man's lap! He realized the situation, and skun back to bed.

For twelve years I had suffered, from time to time terribly with Rheumatism, to such an extent the I was unable to move about, and lost the use of my was unable to move about, and lost the use of my limbs. I tried everything recommended to effect a cure, consulted some of the most prominent plysi-cians, and expended large sums of money, hoping to find relief, but without any success. Glancing over the columns of the "Wackter," I read about the Sr. Jacons Oil and the MANY cures this remedy had effected. Having been disappointed so many times. I lost all faith in any remedy, the Sr. Jacons On included, until I saw one day that it had cured a well-known citizen with whom I am acquainted. Other parties fully endorsed the value and wonderful power of the Ort, telling me that it had cared them of different ailments in a very short time. This brought me to a conclusion. I said to myself, "Schweizer, fifty cents won't break you," so I went to my druggist, Mr. Bock, bought a bottle of the Oir, and must now confess that the result was truly wonderful. I used it every two bours, and foun relief immediately upon the first application, and the pain coased entirely after a few more applications Fearing a new attack, I remained in bed and contin ued to use the remedy every three bours. All pair having left me, I arose from my bed and walked

Since that time I have been able to follow my ever disagreeable the changes of the weather may be Having thoroughly tested the St. Jacons Ou., I can conscientionaly recommend it to all afflicted with Rheumatism. Fifty cents is a very small expense when the services for so triffing an outlay are considered. If I was one thousand miles away from all human habitation, I should, nevertheless, procure this remedy and keep it always in my house.

A party of Otoes have been down visiting their neighbors, the lowas, for some time past, and a short time since, a pipe dance was given in honor of the visitors, and numerous presents of ponies, blankets, and other valuables, were bestowed. We judge these Otoes came at a very opportune season, for a gentleman living on the edge of the Reservation, who had lost over a dozen fat hogs from an epidemic among his drove, relates that they were all handed off by the Indians for their feasts, and some of them had become preety "loud," at that.

Sot. MILLER, Esq.:—Your comments on L. E. Gordon are uncalled for, and unjust. You no doubt are speaking of L. E. G., Jr., and alluding to L. E. G., Sr. You speak of "cuffing and abusing his wife." When a thing in the form and appearance of a woman drives little helpless children from the bouse they were born in, to seek shelter in the woods or elsewhere, could you, or would you, abuse a man if he did leave such a beast! Father, after he lost his farm, and went to live on the farm of this widow you mentioned, was charged $100 for the privilege of farming 35 acres. Father could not stand such arrangements longer. He did not desert "the widow in good circumstances." They separated by mutual consent. No doubt, if you had the other side of the story, (all stories have two tides, and lies only one,) you would have more scurrillous comments to make on the other side.

12. What was Stonewall Jackson's given name, and why was he called "Stonewall!"

Thomas Jonathan Jackson. The origin of the name "Stonewall" has been changed, in the process of "amanding" the history of the civil war. He originally acquired the name, at the beginning of the Rebellion, by entrenching his forces behind a stone wall or fence, from which the Union forces were unable to dislodge them. But that not being in keeping with the character of the hero that his worshippers wished to make of him, it was said that the name was derived from his declaring that he would stand like a stone wall.

13. What is meant by climate, and upon what does it dedend!

Webster defines climate as "the condition of a place in relation to the various phenomena of the atmosphere, as temperature, moisture, &c., especially as they affect animal life or man." Among the things upon which it depends are lattiude, alltitude, and the influence of occans, mountains, lakes, forests, deserts, &c., upon any particular portions of the globe.

Well, we never! Last Monday, the Marshal was instructed by an irate citizen to complain about, and make Mr. Adam Reenner remove his distillery, as the smell emanating from it greatly offended the nostrils of one of the neighbors, even so far as to disturb his midnight's rest. Mr. Brenner, won't you please abate your nuisance of a distillery at once?

Our streets are again crowded with loaded wagons of grain. The prospects are good, at present, for another good crop of wheat, and farmers are selling part of their oid crop.

Reports of a wedding in high life, soon.

The most enjoyable social event of the season transpired at the City Hotel, last Friday evening, in the shape of a select ball, given by the citizens of our town. Everybody who was invited came and enjoyed themselves. The contumes were ingenious, and reflect much credit upon the ladies, who had rather a short time in which to prepare the same. The music and calling were excellent. The fun continued far into the wee smal hours, (original.—Pr.) and when it finally ceased, everybody went home well pleased that they had been there.

As our place is making rapid strides in a business line, and offers some inducements almost irresistible, I deem it not out of place to enumerate some of the most important ones, through your liberal columns. We finter ourself that farmers living within a radius of five miles of this place can deliver their grain here cheaper and more conveniently than to any other point, on account of roads being better, with fewer nills, &c.

One fact predominates and remains: we have nothing intoxicating here, but good prices are paid for

One fact predominates and remains: we have nothing intexisting here, but good prices are paid for grain by pleasant, sober men. Dry goods and greenies, coal and flour, fresh and of the best grasles and quality, can be bought here as cheap as at any other point in the County. The famous "Ne Plus Ultra" flour, manufactured at Wathena, by the patent process, is gaining rapidly in favor here.

Farmers are preparing to shell their corn, and will sell corn and wheat mostly in this market. Aiready preparations are being made to store and ship the immense lots which have been persistently held for higher prices by disappointed farmers.

EAST GALLATIN, M. T., January 16, 1880.

ED. CHIEF:—Thinking that a few items from this part of the world might be of interest to some of your readers, I will submit a few lines to your columns in regard to Montana. I promised some friends in Doniphan County that I would write when we arrived here, and no doubt many will be reached, if you give this a place in your paper.

We left the Missouri River, cast of Troy, April 22, 1859, to go to Montana by wagon. Among the places of historical interest we noticed, was the Massacre Hill or the ground of the Fort Phil. Kearney disaster of 1876. The ground where Gen. Custer fought his last battle, or the place where the battle of the Little Big Horn raged for nealy five dreadful hours, (so account says.) and where Custer went down surrounded by thousands of yelling Souiz. A large pile of bones now marks the place of the scene.

A little further up, near the Yellowstone, Barker's battle ground was passed, where a battle was fought a few years ago. All this reminds us that Sitting Bull fought hard for this country.

As for Montana, a great many have come here from the States, during the past year. Farm products are low. The best flour retails at $2 per hundred in Gallatin. This may justly be regarded a good grain country, one hundred bushels of wheat being a four hundred acres of oats, which averaged 78 bushels per acre. Oats and potatoes are one cent per pound; eggs and butter, 40 cents.

Arriving here July 6th, we found some Kansas people here. We met Bob. Harvic, of Wathena. Since that, we have had the pleasure of meeting F. K. Armstrong, of Troy, and Jacob Cline, of Highland.

Rirth-Day Party.

Severance, Feb. 2, 1880.

Ed. Chief:—On Monday evening, Jan. 26, 1880, I attended a birth-day party given by Mr. John Corbet and wife to their oldest son, Joseph, he being nineteen years old. We had a boom—not for Grant, but for Corbet. The supper was number one—everything the inner man could desire, both in quantity and quality. Mrs. Corbet is a splendid cook. There were 115 guests in attendance, the larger portion of which were young folks. After the supper was over, the amusements of the evening commenced. All seemed to be young, and the youth and the aged seemed to enjoy themselves to their fullest satisfaction. Mr. John Corbet and wife are early settlers of Doniphan County. They were married at a proper age, and their motto has been to multiply and replenish the earth. They have eleven children, all hearty and doing well. They commenced their married life poor, but are now in well-to-do circumstances, and with the continuod help of their industrious boys, they will in time become rich. My advice to youth is to marry at the proper age. We have a large prairie country here in Kansas yet to settle and improve and inhabit, so you cannot do better than to follow the footsteps of friend Corbet. John is a subscriber to the Chief. Mr. George Bird, of the Severance Cornet Band, and four of his young tooters were there, and gave some splendid music for the occasion. And I will say here, that George Bird will, in time, make a success. With his energetic training, his boys are bound to learn to play well. The members of his band are of that kind of young men who will always appreciate his kind instructions as a leader.

Mrs. J. A. Synns gave a card party and dance, on Tuesday night of last week, to the young folks of this vicinity. It is needless to say that all enjoyed themselves very happily under the generous hospitality of Mrs. Synns.

The young folks are indulging in spelling schools, and intend to organize a literary society, following the example of Doniphan. Mr. M. L. Edwards is the school teacher here, and will doubtless succeed in making a success of the "literary."

Miss Alice Benjamin, of Doniphan, is staying with her annt, Mrs. J. A. Synns, a few weeks.

The people in this neighborhood seem determined to enjoy themselves, and have parties and dances pretty often.
